

External P.C Ports Identity Card

Nawaz, Muhammad Ahsan

This is a Completely Hardware Device which is connected between computer motherboard and external ports. This hardware has no any link with PC Operating System or Bios, so it can not be hacked through any software in the world. This device identity the USB flash which have unique pass code in the form of audio file. This will not accept any other USB Flash or any other PC Devices such as printers, scanners etc. This device also gives Keyboard and Mouse lock protection, which will prevent PC from illegal use. This device can lock/unlock ports through Bluetooth such as keyboard, mouse and other devices connected to PC. This device can also lock/ unlock ports through the head phone plug-in jack. This Device has a manual Switching Panel Password through which its password can also be changed.