

Successful People Attitudes in Young People Actions

De La Luz Sanchez, Luis (School: St. Thomas Aquinas Catholic Secondary School)

Ramos Hernandez, Luis (School: Shanghai Qibao High School)

The present research whose theme focuses on the structure of achieving in our sample group (ten classmates from the different grades) of the school "Carlos Monsivais" to reach their goals, to carry out their life projects, to overcome their fears and to change them with positive attitudes to achieve success based on the theory of Jean Piaget, because this author understands learning as a reorganization of existing cognitive structures in each moment based on the experiences of people. That is to say: for him, the changes in our knowledge, those qualitative leaps that lead us to internalize new knowledge from our experience. For this we carried out a bibliographical research whose objective is to know the opinion of different authors who speak on the subject of the project. And to know how they can achieve their goals, their life projects, since it is necessary that every young person in this stage of their life aspire to succeed and strive to achieve their own success. In order to obtain the results and get to know the objectives, goals, strengths, weaknesses, self-knowledge and emotional life of our colleagues three instruments were used to show the characteristics of the teenagers. Three instruments were used, two surveys and an interview to people who have achieved success both academic, business, educational, etc. Where it was possible to have more exact conclusions about the thought of the teenagers on its future projection. Among the data obtained, it turned out the majority of teenagers have started to have goals, projects and to know what they want to do in the future, they got to know each other better and communicate better with their peers and parents, but more importantly, they improved academically and changed their attitude.